

Waldorf University
Commencement

Once you enter the auditorium and are seated, you are asked not to leave your seat except in an emergency. However, due to the importance of this occasion for the graduates and their families, parents of children who may be causing a disruption are encouraged to view the ceremony from the monitors in the Mezzanine.

A professional photographer will make available an individual photo of each graduate with their diploma. Please do not use flash cameras or video/audio recording devices during the commencement program. The Alumni Board welcomes new graduates as members of the Alumni Association.

Videos of these events will be available via livestream:

waldorf.edu/graduation

Due to pedestrian congestion after Commencement, no vehicles may pick up passengers in front of the Boman Fine Arts Center.
Please pick up all passengers in the lot next to the facility.

A special Commencement Lunch will be served following commencement I (11 a.m.-1 p.m.).

The cost is $8 per person (children 0-5 free, ages 6-11 are $4). Meals may be purchased in the dining hall located in the Campus Center (CIC). Everyone is welcome!

INVOCATION LITANY

Dr. Jeniffer Tillman, Campus Chaplain

C: Creator God, You have brought us here to learn.

A: Now that our time here has ended, help us to be learners for life.

C: You have been called and empowered to serve the neighbor so that all may flourish.

A: We have been educated as complete individuals to live lives of fulfillment in the communities where we will live and serve.

C: As individuals, you are distinctive, value driven, innovative and ambitious.

A: As a community, we are honorable, fair, moral, creative and humble.

C: May the work of your hands and the meditations of your hearts be directed in upholding the foundations of academic and emotional intelligence, individuality and community, diversity and inclusion, faith and science, equitability and fairness, innovation and flexibility.

A: May these principles guide us in love so that our world may reap the benefits of the grand opportunities destined upon the horizon.

C: In the Holy Name of the One who calls and creates us all, may you have the faith to dream of a better world and better life for all who are created in the image of our God.

A: May we have the faith to fight with integrity and justice as our guide and realize a world that upholds community, passion, living traditions and success for a better future tomorrow

THE RECESSIONAL

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Born and raised in Baltimore, Md., Fire Chief Joseph Warren Dixon, Sr. started his career journey in Howard County, Md. where he served 25 years with the department before retirement in June of 2018. As Operations Chief, he provided leadership for approximately four hundred field and administrative personnel while managing a budget of over $80 million. After retirement he took his talent south to Goldsboro, N.C. and then to Gainesville, Fla.

Chief Dixon served as Chief of the Goldsboro, N.C. Fire Department for three years where he provided leadership during major emergencies, obtained multiple grants, updated the Emergency Operations Plan, achieved FEMA typing for the water rescue team, reorganized the department to increase efficiency and established a public private funding stream for the restoration of antique fire apparatus. Shortly after his appointment as Chief in Gainesville, Fla. he was named the Special Advisor to the City Manager. In addition to leading the department through Covid, reaccreditation, and budgetary challenges, he was tasked with coordinating resources focused on homelessness. The innovative and successful efforts have been well documented and Gainesville Fla. personnel continue to share insights in professional forums across the nation. At every assignment, his leadership proved essential in advancing the department toward a general vision of excellence that exceeded expectations.

It was his successes and God's grace that ultimately afforded him the opportunity to return home where he currently leads one of our nation's largest combination fire departments. In Baltimore County, Md. his knowledge, skills and abilities continue to pay dividends in areas that include Community Engagement, Diversity & Inclusion, Capital Replacement, Capability Assessment, Emergency Management and Negotiation.

Chief Dixon is a graduate of the National Fire Academy's Executive Fire Officer Program and an alumnus of The Carl Holmes Executive Development Institute. He holds a bachelor's degree in fire science from the University of Maryland University College and a master of arts in organizational leadership from Waldorf University. His advanced professional certifications include Certified Emergency Manager, Fire Investigator, Fire Officer IV, Hazardous Materials Technician, Fire Instructor III and Chief Fire Officer (CFO) designation. He currently serves the industry as Metro Fire Chief's I-Works representative, NFPA 1750 committee member and Waldorf University's Fire Advisory Council.

THE WALDORF UNIVERSITY SEAL AND HERALDRY SEAL

Waldorf's seal bears the symbol of the lamp and the book. The motto of the University is "Light and Truth." As an educational institution, Waldorf is dedicated to the truth in all branches of human knowledge and the sharing of this truth through its work of teaching. As a University of the Christian church, Waldorf is founded upon and guided by the truth of God's Word and is committed to the task of letting that truth light up the lives of all who come within its influence.

THE PROCESSIONAL MACE

Once a familiar weapon in medieval combat, the mace evolved over time into a symbol of authority and became associated with the pride of a nation and its origins. Later, the mace was adopted by universities as a symbol of the power of the academic pursuit of wisdom and truth. It is carried in academic processions to bring authority to ceremonial occasions and to symbolize the unity and aspirations of the collegiate community.

Waldorf's processional mace was designed and presented to the University by Dr. James Roy in 1994. Dr. Roy is a prominent artist and former faculty member of Waldorf University, who later became chair of the Department of Art at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota.

Carried vertically, the mace stands four feet high and is constructed of walnut and oak wood. The triangular head of the mace symbolizes the triune God and a sterling silver medallion graces each of the three sides of the mace head. One medallion is a stylized version of the University's Seal, which includes the "lamp of learning," the motto "Lux et Veritas" (Light and Truth), the date of founding (1903) and two crosses. Another places the Greek letters chi and ro, which are the first two letters in the Greek word for Christ, over a stylized section of Salvesson Hall, the University's original building. The third medallion is the seal of Martin Luther, which symbolizes the University's commitment to the Lutheran understanding of the Christian faith. Several semi-precious gemstones adorn and decorate each of the medallions.

The Processional mace is carried in all formal academic processions of the University. The mace is carried by the University Marshal and it follows the cross, which leads the procession.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The tradition of a symbol of office is rooted in the colorful life of towns in the Middle Ages. The symbol of communal harmony was the mayor, who at his investiture was given a chain with a medallion that represented all the guilds working together for the welfare of the town. In the medieval university, the chief official, or rector magnificus, held authority similar to that of the mayor in civil society. Thus, he, too, was honored with a medallion, but his consisted of insignia of all the colleges of the university.

Waldorf University's presidential medallion was created by artist James Roy in 1968. Dr. Roy had been a professor of art at Waldorf and was, at the time, professor of art and chair of the Art Department of St. Cloud State University in Minnesota.

The medallion is made of sterling silver and is decorated with several garnets and pearls. The medallion's face includes the lamp of learning set on an opened Bible, both symbols from the University's Seal. The University's name and its motto, Lux et Veritas (Light of Truth), surround the circular center of the medallion.

Rather than the more traditional chain, Roy designed a purple velvet shawl to hold the medallion. The fabric and color represent the historic commitments of the University to the Christian faith.

The presidential medallion is the official symbol of the office of the president of Waldorf University and is donned by the president when academic apparel is worn at formal academic celebrations.

THE HERITAGE OF ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic regalia worn at commencement is of medieval origin. The scholars of Bologna, Salamanca, Paris, Oxford, Cambridge, Louvain and Heidelberg dressed to distinguish themselves from the merchants and other townsmen. Since the 11th century, when the rise of the universities began, "learned clerks" robed themselves in gowns, caps and hoods, thus marking a difference between "town and gown."

By this apparel they were recognized as belonging to the teaching guild: the Guild of the Master of Arts. In this organization the bachelor was the apprentice of the master. This relationship was a forerunner of today's academic structure, which often includes graduate and/or teaching assistants (usually studying for advanced degrees).

In our time customs vary as to the wearing of the academic gowns. In the older English universities the masters or dons continue to wear them while engaged in instructional duties; students are required to wear gowns while attending lectures or during tutorials. In many other European universities, academic regalia is worn only on certain stipulated occasions, as in America today.

Generally in Europe, the faculty member wears the type of garment customary in the university where the professor is lecturing. In the United States our tradition differs; our professors continue to wear the gown and hood of the university from which they received their highest degree.

The gown, in origin, may have been simply a type of overcoat to protect the teacher from the cold in unheated buildings; the cut or style seemingly derived from ecclesiastical attire. It has usually been black. The gowns of bachelors and masters were usually without trimmings, whereas those of doctors are faced down the front with velvet and adorned with three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves. The master's gown has pointed sleeves while the bachelor's gown has plain, straight sleeves.

The cap or "mortarboard" may have come from the squarish cap worn by the masons of the Middle Ages, or perhaps was suggested by the shape of the scholar's books. Attached to a button atop the mortarboard is a tassel; bachelor's and master's tassels are black. Gold tassels are worn only by holders of doctoral degrees and by heads of institutions. The tassel is worn on the left side by those who have received a degree. It is said the tassel of your education should always hang closest to your heart.

The hood, a triangular fold of cloth worn over the back of the gown, is faced with colors which denote the field of study represented by the wearer's degree; the colors of the lining are those of the college or university by which the degree was granted. The length of the hood is correspondingly longer with each higher degree.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods, are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer. For all academic purposes, the colors associated with the different disciplines are as follows:

HONORS AND PROCESSION

GRADUATION HONORS

Special honors are awarded to Bachelor level students at the time of graduation in recognition of high scholarship. These are designated by the terms cum laude (with distinction), magna cum laude (with high distinction) and summa cum laude (with highest distinction).

Summa Cum Laude (With Highest Distinction): 3.90 – 4.00 GPA, gold cords

Magna Cum Laude (With High Distinction): 3.70 – 3.89 GPA, silver cords

Cum Laude (With Distinction): 3.50 – 3.69 GPA, purple cords

Graduates wearing gold medallions with green and blue ribbon were selected into membership to Alpha Chi, the national scholastic honors society. Alpha Chi admits to membership students from all academic disciplines. Only students in the top ten percent of the junior and senior classes may be invited to join. As an honors society, Alpha Chi recognizes previous accomplishments and provides opportunity for continued growth and service.

Students wearing gold honors medallions with gold ribbon are Waldorf Scholars and graduates of the Waldorf Honors College. These scholars are students who were admitted to and successfully completed the program of the Honors College with a minimum grade point average of at least 3.5.

Student Senate awards a white with purple lettering and script stole to student senators. The stole represents their dedication to the University for maintaining a GPA of 2.5 or higher and staying actively involved in Student Senate for at least two years. Student Senate plays a major role helping clubs and other organizations fund their activities.

Students wearing variant cords of Red, Black and Royal Blue are reserved for those students who are members in America's proud Fire, Police and Rescue units across our country. Waldorf University honors their daily sacrifice, dedication and skills that make a difference in the lives of our communities and families. Waldorf University is deeply grateful for each one of you for your dedicated service to the greater community. Waldorf University honors our first responders and would like to acknowledge the sacrifices they and their families make every day and throughout the holidays to the well-being of others.

Students wearing cords of red, white and blue are reserved for those students who are serving or have served in one of the branches of the United States Armed Forces. Waldorf University honors their service, their sacrifice and their continued support to protect the people and boundaries of the United States of America. Waldorf University honors our service members, their families and gives thanks to their service...past, present and future.

United States Air Force Red, White and Blue with USAF Blue and White cord

United States Army Red, White and Blue with Black and Gold cord

United States Coast Guard Red, White and Blue with Slate Blue and White cord

United States Navy Red, White and Blue with Navy Blue and White cord

United States Marines Red, White and Blue with Red and Gold cord

Spouses and Dependents of Military Red, White and Blue with Purple and Dandelion cord

COMMENCEMENT

To signal the achievements of their students, American institutions of higher learning conduct formal ceremonies to award the appropriate degrees earned at the conclusion of prescribed study. The action of taking the degree, as well as the designation of the day itself, is Commencement.

Various explanations of the term Commencement are possible. The most likely is that centuries ago the bachelor, originally an apprentice, began his apprenticeship upon that day; and with the degree of M.A. and Ph.D., the masters and doctors commenced their work upon the day their degrees were conferred. So today, having finished their preliminary education, students set out to continue preparation for their vocation in life.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

A university commencement procession is a formal academic ceremony rooted in long-standing collegiate tradition, designed to signify the orderly and dignified opening of the conferral of degrees. The procession typically begins with the ceremonial standard-bearers, establishing the tone of formality and institutional identity. At the head of the procession is the Crucifer, who carries the ceremonial cross. This role is most common at faith-based institutions and symbolizes the university's religious heritage and guiding principles. Following the crucifer is the University Marshal and Mace Bearer, who carries the academic mace—an ornamental staff representing the authority of the institution and the governance vested in its leadership. The mace is one of the oldest symbols in higher education ceremonies and signifies the opening of the academic convocation. Next in the procession are the flag bearers, typically carrying the national flag (e.g., the United States of America flag), followed by the state flag (e.g., Iowa State flag) and then the institutional flag. In some ceremonies, additional flags may be included to represent military service branches, international students, or institutional affiliations. Following the presentation of colors are members of the platform party, which include members of the governing board, senior administration, honored guests and keynote speakers. The faculty process next, typically arranged by academic rank (professors, associate professors, assistant professors) wearing full academic regalia that denote their academic discipline and highest degree earned. Their participation underscores the academic authority and integrity of the institution. Finally, the candidates for degrees (the students) enter the procession. They are usually organized by degree level (master's, bachelor's, associate's). This ordered progression reflects the structure and mission of the university, culminating in the recognition of student achievement within the broader academic community.

ACADEMIC AWARDS

President's Award

The President's Award recognizes the graduating senior whose academic record, leadership, character and service reflect the highest ideals of Waldorf University. This distinction honors a student whose achievements embody the institution's long-standing commitment to scholarship, integrity and service.

Viking Outstanding Student Award

The Viking Outstanding Student Award recognizes one or more online students whose dedication, perseverance and influence extend beyond their coursework. At Waldorf University, the Viking symbolizes discovery, inspiration and the courage to blaze new trails in pursuit of knowledge—virtues that have guided the institution through more than 120 years of academic excellence and continue to inspire students to shape a brighter future.

Congrats!

GRADUATES

CONGRATULATIONS!

You are starting this new chapter of your life, ready to do your part in addressing the world's challenges with the experience and knowledge you have gained while at Waldorf, and Waldorf alumni are here to support you. We believe that "Once a Warrior, always a Warrior." You are an important part of a network of alumni, families and friends across the country, more than 20,000 strong.

I encourage you to stay active and engaged throughout your lifetime, which will look different as your life progresses.

Waldorf is your alma mater, and no matter how time shapes your life and hers, she will always be here with you and will long outlive any of us. She will eventually become yours to care for and nurture.

Live a good life, stay in touch and come home as often as possible. We are so proud of you.

Theodore Schoneman 2020 & 2025

Director of Engagement and Alumni Relations, Waldorf University

ALUMNI PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Alumni have a shared mission to encourage and cultivate lifelong Waldorf relationships that provide mutual benefit to alumni, students and the university through active alumni involvement, meaningful communication and enthusiastic commitment to the Waldorf University mission and its vision.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association sets the alumni mission, and alumni, families and friends always have a home at Waldorf University. Events around the world, Homecoming, the Waldorf Magazine and keeping track of Warriors—these are the responsibilities of the Office of Engagement and Advancement. To honor the Waldorf flame in the pursuit of Lux et Veritas (light and truth), tell us about your educational and professional pursuits (so we can connect you with future faculty and students), update your address (so we can invite you to events and connect you with friends and classmates) and stay in touch with your accomplishments and awards.

EVENTS

Waldorf and volunteers host meet-ups and events around the country to learn, have social time and network. We host homecoming, alumni panels, class speakers, alumni day, conference receptions and reunions—online and in person. We are happy to work with you to celebrate your friendships and accomplishments, whether you're in Forest City or halfway across the country.

ALUMNI AWARDS AND THE ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

Waldorf University recognizes individuals who have had an incredible impact on Waldorf and on their communities. Nominations are carried from year to year and come from alumni and their networks to draw attention to alumni's lives and professions.

NEWSLETTERS & MAGAZINES

Alumni and friends can start receiving our newsletter via email. You can update your contact information online or by emailing alumni@waldorf.edu. The Waldorf University Magazine is published several times a year with more in-depth stories about alumni and sharing insight about what's happening at Waldorf. All issues are published and archived on the website on the alumni pages.

PHILANTHROPY

When the time is right for you, honor those who provided your education for you and include Waldorf in your philanthropy. Feel free to email foundation@waldorf.edu for more information.

STAY CONNECTED

Connect with Waldorf on social media! Share your own stories. Reach out to alumni in your area and stay connected to your Waldorf family! We welcome all news about life updates, graduations, awards and getting together with your Waldorf friends.

Congratulations again. Celebrate because you are a Waldorf Graduate!

Forever purple and gold. Forever a Warrior.
